TEENS + Social Media ❄️

facebook

Until recently, Facebook had dominated the social media landscape among America's youth – but it is no longer the most popular online platform among teens, according to a new Pew Research Center survey. Today, roughly half (51%) of U.S. teens ages 13 to 17 say they use Facebook, notably lower than the shares who use YouTube, Instagram or Snapchat. This shift in teens' social media use is just one example of how the technology landscape for young people has evolved since the Center's last survey of teens and technology use in 2014-2015. Most notably, smartphone ownership has become a nearly ubiquitous element of teen life: 95% of teens now report they have a smartphone or access to one. These mobile connections are in turn fueling more-persistent online activities: 45% of teens now say they are online on a near-constant basis.

The survey also finds there is no clear consensus among teens about the effect that social media has on the lives of young people today. Minorities of teens describe that effect as mostly positive (31%) or mostly negative (24%), but the largest share (45%) says that effect has been neither positive nor negative.

These are some of the main findings from the Center's survey of U.S. teens conducted March 7-April 10, 2018. Throughout the report, "teens" refers to those ages 13 to 17.

Ms Abedini

hi Ms Abedini

hi mojan

we are so glad that we have you here

for the first question why did you decide to be a teacher?

actually...i became a writer when i was 18, and after that for some years i was just busy with writing. for some reasons people told me you should teach teenagers if you want to be better in writing so i decided to become a teacher...and it has continued untill now why did you choose physics?

when I was 15 i became interested in astronomy! at that time i started to become an amateur astronomer. and after that i decided to educate in physics to become a professional one day.

do you prefer to be a writer or a teacher?

Both of them ! I love my students and they make me challenge ! Usually I learn a lot from

Oh that's really good !
We love you too

So , I know that you are an university student
Are you a good student in university?

I don't know :D
I should say I'm not bad !

But I know you are the best

Thanks dear :)

May I ask , Which uni do u go ?

Tehran University

That's greatttt

What's your worse grade?

To be honest , 9.5

So I failed that lesson

Oh my god :D

My best grade ?
20 ! :D

what are you scared of the most?

The most ?
Lose my family

Oh yes

So at the end the most popular question that all the interviewer always ask
Have you ever fall in love ?

Sure ! I'm a normal person ! :))

I'm so glad to have had an interview with my lovely teacher
It was really good !
I wish you the best , you will see this interview in our magazine soon

Thanks dear , I had really fun time with you !
Be proud to be a part in your magazine

a big thanks to the loveliest teacher of all time

Solar system facts

URANUS

7TH PLANET FROM THE SUN

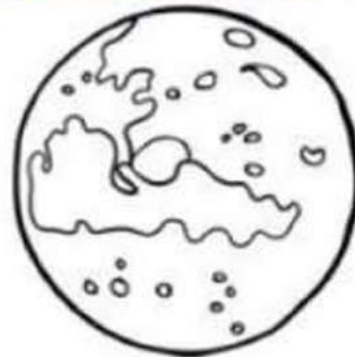

Deep within Neptune and Uranus, it rains diamonds—or so astronomers and physicists have suspected for nearly 40 years. The outer planets of our Solar System are hard to study, however. ... Beyond the lingering mystery of the diamond rain, there's a big loss in our failure to study Uranus and Neptune inside and out.

Color: It's called the Red Planet because its iron-rich dust gives it landscape a rusty-red color.

Diet planet: Mars's gravity is 38 percent of Earth's. ...

Climate change: At the equator, Mars is a comfortable 80 degrees Fahrenheit, but the temperature at its poles can get down to 199 degrees below zero

MARS

JUPITER

5TH PLANET FROM THE SUN

It is the fastest spinning planet in the Solar System. Jupiter has three very faint rings. It has an extremely strong magnetic field that is 14 times stronger than the magnetic field of the Earth. Viewed from the Earth, it is the third brightest object in the night sky.

SHORT STORIES

A man checked into a hotel. There was a computer in his room. so he decided to send an e-mail to his wife. However he accidentally typed a wrong e-mail address and without realizing his error he sent the e-mail.

Meanwhile....Somewhere in Houston a widow had just returned from her husband's funeral. The widow decided to check her e-mail expecting condolence messages from relatives and friends. After reading the first message she fainted. The widow's son rushed into the room and found his mother on the floor and saw the computer screen which read:

To: My Loving Wife
Subject: I've Reached
Date: 2 May 2006

I know you're surprised to hear from me. They have computers here and we are allowed to send e-mails to loved ones. I've just reached and have been checked in. I see that everything has been prepared for your arrival tomorrow.

Looking forward to seeing you TOMORROW!!

Your loving hubby

story 2

A Persian grandma just came from Iran and wanted to become a citizen in the United States.

She took her grandson with her to take her citizenship exam.

The immigration officer told the Persian woman that he had to ask 4 simple questions about America and if she answered them correctly, she would become a citizen.

She said, "OK, but I don't speak English, I'm bringing my grandson"

The man said, "OK, so he will translate."

Now for your first question:

1) What is the capital of America?

The Iranian woman's grandson told her: "Esm shahri ke al'an toosh hastim chiey?"

"Washington" said the grandma.

She was correct, now for question number 2:

2) When is Independence Day for America?

The grandson said: "Newman marcoos key haraj dare?"

"July fourth" the grandma said.

Correct, now for question number 3:

3) Who ran for president this year but lost?

The grandson told his grandmother: "oon martike mo'tad ke ba dokhtaret aroosi kard koja bere?"

"Too goooooor" wow wonderful, now for your final question:

4) Who is the president of the United States now?

The grandson translated: "az chiye joorabaye pedarbozorg badet miad?"

"Boooooosh" grandma answered.

She is a US citizen now

story 3

One summer day, when tourists were lining up to enter a stately house, an old gentleman whispered to the person behind him, "Take a look at the little fellow in front of me with the poodle cut and the blue jeans. Is it a boy or a girl!?" "It's a girl," came the angry answer. "I ought to know. She's my daughter." "Forgive me, sir!" apologized the old fellow. "I never dreamed you were her father." "I'm not," said the parent with blue jeans. "I'm her mother!"

story 4

General Pershing was a famous American officer. He was in the American army, and fought in Europe in the First World War.

After he died, some people in his home town wanted to remember him, so they' put up a big statue of him on a horse.

There was a school near the statue, and some of the boys passed it every day on their way to school and again on their way home. After a few months some of them began to say, 'Good morning, Pershing', whenever they passed the statue, and soon all the boys at the school were doing this.

One Saturday one of the smallest of these boys was walking to the shops with his mother when he passed the statue. He said, 'Good morning, Pershing' to it, but then he stopped and said to his mother, 'I like Pershing very much, but who's that funny man on his back?'

good morning
